Sarah Ward's Executive Function Skills Workshop

Monday November 20th, 2017

8:30 am - 3:30 pm | Registration starts at 7:45 am

New Providence Community Center Hall - Blake Road

Family Medicine Center presents a 1-day practical strategies workshop

What are Executive Function Skills?

Executive Function skills are the skill set of goal setting, carrying out organized steps and modifying a plan to complete a task successfully.

These skills are important for learning from past experiences and applying this knowledge to new experiences. Attention, memory, impulse control, organization, planning, sensing time and hierarchical thinking are the executive function based skills that enable an individual to learn, generalize behaviors and complete tasks.

Learning Outcomes

After completing this workshop you will have practical strategies to...

- Help children develop situational awareness
- Teach children to be future thinkers
- Accelerate children's planning skills
- Teach children time-management skills
- Help children develop the skills of self-monitoring and metacognition
- Help children develop better transition skills
- Support a child's ability to improve his/her speed of processing information

Target Audience

Physicians, Psychologists, Speech Language Pathologists, Occupational Therapists, Parents, Regular and Special Education Teachers, and other professionals who work with individuals with executive function based challenges.

SARAH WARD MS, CCC/SLP

Executive Function Therapy

Sarah has over 17 years experience in diagnostic evaluations, treatment and case management of children, adolescents and adults with a wide range of brain based learning difficulties and behavioral problems. A popular speaker, Sarah regularly presents nationally and internationally on the topic of executive functions to a variety of professional and parent organizations. Her innovative and effective treatment approaches have been featured on National Public Radio and she is the recipient of multiple awards, including the Massachusetts General Hospital Expertise in Clinical Practice Award and Faculty in Excellence Award, 2005 and 2011.
